

Buy
War Savings
Certificates
Regularly!

The Coleman Journal

Most Effective Advertising Medium reaching the People of Town and District. The Journal goes into the Homes.

VOLUME 22, No. 6 THE JOURNAL, COLEMAN, ALBERTA THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1943 $2.00 Per Year; Single Copy 5c

Buy
War Savings Certificates
Regularly!

Council Gives Consideration Towards Having A Community Honor Roll

To Crack Down on Persons Refusing to Have Ashes Removed by Ashman.

Regular meeting of the council was held on Monday evening. Present Mayor Antrobus, Councilors, Cox, Dutil, Ford, Jenkins and Ramsay.

W. C. Jenkins asked the council to sell or lease him a piece of land near the town dump. Works and Property committee will inspect land before a decision is made.

Charlie Makin was present to talk over his problems pertaining to ashes throughout the town. Some people refused to pay the 35c while others were taking their own ashes away to places unknown. Council made Mr. Makin aware that when they passed By-law 180 regarding moving of ashes they were not fooling and persons refusing to live up to the by-law would find themselves in court. One person already has been before the magistrate and fined because he refused to have his ashes removed. Regardless of the fact that a person may take his own ashes away or was filling up a hole in his yard with ashes he still must pay the ashman 35c per month. Constable Antle was authorized to prosecute any persons infringing the by-law. An advt. to this effect was authorized to be inserted in The Journal.

The question of having an honor roll for Coleman was discussed. The mayor was delegated to give consideration to the proposal and to bring in suggestions at the next meeting.

"Bill" Naylor Gets Commission; Fine Record

Sgt. William Keith Naylor, R. C.A.F., Coleman, has been commissioned in the field for efficiency, meritorious service and leadership qualities, according to an announcement from Ottawa today.

"Bill" is the son of M. and Mrs. James Naylor of Fifth street. He was born at Frank in June, 1922, coming to Coleman later with his parents where he received his public and high school education. He enlisted with the R.C.A.F. in August, 1941, and in September, 1942, went overseas. He is now attached to the 408 bombing squadron.

Bill's many friends congratulate him on receiving his commission.

Rivers of Asia

Four of the greatest rivers of Asia—the Yangtze, Makong, Salween and Irrawaddy—flow within 60 miles of each other in Lushan, mountainous border between China and Burma.

Special Notice

Re Hauling of Ashes and Garbage

Chas. Makin is still the Town Appointee for collecting and disposing of town refuse.

In order to keep the Town of Coleman a Clean and Sanitary place in which to live, the Coleman Town Council are insisting that all refuse be cleared every week by our official.

Any person refusing to pay the 35c per month, or not respecting the regulations will be prosecuted immediately without warning.

COLEMAN TOWN COUNCIL

J. M. ALLAN'S CAR FOUND AT BELLEPLAIN, SASKATCHEWAN

J. M. Allan was notified by police on Wednesday morning that his car, stolen from his residence three weeks ago, had been found at a town named Belleplain, east of Regina, Saskatchewan.

It is not known whether the thieves were caught or what condition the car is in.

FO John Rogers Killed In Action Overseas

Had Gone Overseas Last November And Had Been A Bomber Pilot; Letter To Follow Wire

(A wire was received yesterday informing Mr. and Mrs. Rogers that the funeral of their son will be held on Friday, June 11, at 3 p. m. from Swanton Morley church at Dereham, Norfolk, England.)

FO John Rogers, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Rogers, was killed in action on Sunday, June 6, according to a wire received by his parents Monday evening from R.C.A.F. authorities at Ottawa. A letter giving more detail will follow within the next few weeks.

John was born in Coleman and resided here with his parents till his enlistment in the R.C.A.F. on July 22, 1941, when he went into training in eastern Canada. He attended the local and high schools and took part in many sports, his favorites being tennis and tumbling in which he excelled.

He received his wings and his commission as Pilot Officer in 1942 and came home on all his furloughs. He left Coleman in November of 1942 on his way overseas. As far is known he has been a bomber pilot and in his last few letters home had expressed the hope that he would soon get his own fighter machine. He was attached to the R.A.F. and had been over Europe on many occasions.

He was of quiet disposition and a popular member of Coleman's younger set. His death will be regretted by his many friends and the deepest sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Rogers in their bereavement.

SASKATOON YOUNGSTERS DO GOOD JOB

The salvage committee of Saskatoon have every reason to feel proud of the good job done by the youngsters of that city in their collection of waste fats. Their recent theatre show produced 3,000 pounds of dripping, which will be eventually made into explosives.

Fight by lending.

ONE OF THE MEN WHO BEAT ROMMEL

AN 8th ARMY TANK MAN IN THE WESTERN DESERT
Picture shows: - A British tank man serving in the desert scans the sky from the turret of his U.S. built tank.

Gala Sports Day Here Monday, July 5

Entries for Various Sports Asked to be Placed Early; Fun For Young and Old.

Some of the sports to be featured at the local July 5 sports day sponsored by Coleman Sports Association have been announced by vice-president Art Fraser this week. There will be fun for all.

Softball tournaments for both men and women will be held and the executive desire entries placed as soon as possible. Five-a-side football will also be a star attraction and football players are advised to get their teams together and entries placed. Should there be too many entries in either the softball or football preliminary rounds will be run off a few days prior to the sports day.

Footraces for youngsters six years and up will be held with the feature race the 220 being run by the town's best runners.

For the heavyweights there will be a tug-of-war and again teams are asked to place their entries as soon as possible.

There will be novelty races for the ladies and elderly men as well as the band.

A few years ago Coleman boasted of several fine horseshoe pitchers. A tournament is being held for this grand sport and many entries are expected.

Tumblers from the high school will give an exhibition as will also the local air cadet unit.

Further particulars regarding the Sports Day will appear in issues of the Journal. Prizes will be awarded winners of all competitions.

W. L. TAYLOR AWARDED BLAIRMORE POST

W. L. Taylor, local C.P.R. depot agent, has been transferred to the Blairmore depot to succeed G. A. Passmore, now retired. Bids on the Coleman depot will be received till to-morrow, Friday, and announcement made next week as to who will succeed Mr. Taylor.

"Bill" came here in August, 1908 and has interested himself in many of the town's activities. He is president of the tennis club and badminton club and is an enthusiastic member of the Lions club. He will maintain his interest in the local clubs despite his moving to an adjoining town for as he puts it "what is four miles—a mere nothing."

Elks' Carnival To Be Held July 17-19

Nine Booths to be Set Up; Hand-some Axminster Rug and Bedroom Suite Are Major Prizes.

Coleman Elks will hold their annual carnival on Saturday and Sunday, July 17 and 19. Proceeds will be used to aid in all worthwhile charitable projects.

A company in Calgary has been contacted to supply the carnival goods and nine booths will be set up in the arena. They will include 2 Croan and Anchors, 1 bingo, 1 chuck-o-luck, 1 miscellaneous, 1 doll, 1 lamp, 1 Hitler and the six arrow game. In addition there will be the dance with music supplied by a leading orchestra. The committee are endeavoring to secure a Merry-Go-Round for the children and should they succeed it will be announced in the next issue.

The major prizes are also worthwhile this year. On Saturday night an Axminster rug measuring 9'x10' and valued at $75 will be raffled. On Monday evening a 4-piece bedroom suite valued at $120 will be won by some lucky person.

Tickets are now being sold by boys and girls. The youngster selling the greatest number of tickets will be awarded a prize yet to be chosen by the committee. They major prizes will be on display shortly in the Coleman Hardware show room.

CEDAR CHEST TO BE RAFFLED JUNE 18

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion will raffie their beautiful cedar chest, now on display at Pattinson's Hardware, at a whistle drive in the I.O.O.F. hall on Friday, June 18. Cedar chests are almost a thing of the past as local hardware find it very difficult to secure them at the present time. The lucky winner will have a gift which he can use and admire for many years to come. Tickets are selling at 25 cents each and can be secured from any member of the auxiliary or at Pattinson's store.

Thrifty Scotsman

Did you know that Canada's postage rates went up one cent recently? William Kinnear of Saskatoon, a native of Fifehire, Scotland, did. Canny Mr. Kinnear mailed all his 1943 Christmas cards a few hours before the deadline.

West Blairmore School Wins War Stamps Sale Contest; War Finance Committees Pleased With Results

YOUTHS GUILTY OF THEFT ON SIXTH STREET

In recent weeks Jack has been stolen from a loft located on Sixth street. This has not been the first time that thieving has occurred at this particular place and if the guilty parties do not stop, the matter will be placed in the hands of the police.

It is thought that youths having horses are the guilty persons. Other goods such as tools, lawn mower, etc. have not been molested.

Distinguish Flying Cross Awarded Foss Boulton

Air Force headquarters at Ottawa announced Thursday night a award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Sqdn. Ldr. F. H. Boulton, of Coleman, who now is reported missing. He is serving with the R.C.A.F. overseas.

The announcement said Sqdn. Ldr. Boulton was in command of the City of Oshawa Spitfire squadron overseas, having taken over command from Sqdn. Ldr. Lloyd Chadburn, D.F.C., several months ago.

The citation:

"This officer has taken part in a large number of sorties, including many low level attacks on targets in Northern France. He has invariably displayed great skill and courage, and has destroyed at least four enemy aircraft."

Mrs. F. H. Graham Bereaved

John W. Fraser, life member of the Northern Alberta Pioneers and Old-timers' association, 9906-104th Street, Edmonton, died in hospital on Friday. He was 90. Born in New York, Mr. Fraser came to Edmonton 51 years ago. He was associated with the D. R. Fraser Lumber Company, Edmonton.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2:30 p.m. at First Presbyterian church.

Surviving are three daughters, Miss Margaret S. Fraser, Edmonton, Mrs. F. H. Graham, Coleman, Mrs. H. W. Hunter, Edmonton, and one son, Dan, B. Fraser, Edmonton.

His wife died in 1932. Senior Elder at First Presbyterian church, Mr. Fraser was prominent in church activities for many years, serving in various capacities in church groups.

Records of the Old-timers' association show Mr. Fraser moved to Ontario from New York, travelled to Winnipeg in 1873 and to Edmonton in 1892.

The late Mr. Fraser visited his daughter, Mrs. F. H. Graham and husband here at Christmas. Mrs. Graham left at the week-end to attend the funeral.

J. J. SMITH HONORED

J. J. Smith, Regina, deputy minister of municipal affairs in Saskatchewan, was named in the King's birthday honors list, a member of the Order of the British Empire. A veteran in the service of provincial and territorial governments he celebrated 40 years as a civil servant last April.

Ed's note—Mr. Smith is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Florence Smith, of Third street, and has visited Coleman on several occasions. His last visit here was in the summer of 1941.

Handsome Picture Presented to School Students By Lions President R. R. Pattinson On Wednesday.

The monthly war stamp contest between all Pass schools and which ended on May 14 was won by the west Blairmore school with a percentage mark of 397, Hillcrest came second with 356.

Central school was at the bottom of the list while Cameron school improved its position of the first month by climbing past Frank and Blairmore to be in fourth place. To get among the leaders the local youngsters will have to take greater interest in the contests and buy greater amounts of stamps.

The War Finance committees in the Pass are greatly pleased with results to-date as it has spurred the sale of stamps to an appreciable degree.

On Tuesday of last week a plane flew over West Blairmore school and dropped the winner's flag to the children lined up in the school yard. The following day, Wednesday, Lion President R. R. Pattinson, accompanied by Mr. W. Chappell, Principal D. McPherson, F. Freeman, S. Bannan, H. Chamberlain, F. Abousafy and A. Balloch, presented the winning school with the handsome picture of Churchill and Roosevelt.

The third month's contest will soon be finished and it is to be hoped Coleman will make a better showing than in the past two contests.

Results of the May 14 contest:

Blairmore, West	397%
Hillcrest	356%
Bellevue	313%
Coleman, West	266%
Blairmore	242%
Frank	236%
Coleman, Central	174%

Cigarette Fund Notes

Dear Sirs: Received your cigs. yesterday. Many thanks. The weather is very hot and it seems funny to spend a winter without snow. Jim Lloyd.

Dear Sirs: Thanks once again for the welcome cigarettes. Feeling fine. Wishing you all the best. Mel Cousins.

Dear Friends: Received tobacco today and it sure comes in handy. Tobacco is up in price due to the new budget. Bill Ferby and Pete Smith are standing here telling me what to write so thanks a lot for the tobacco and say hello to everyone for the bunch of us. Frank Kilgannon.

Dear Folks: Your cigarettes are still coming through. Thanks a million. Good cigarettes are difficult to buy so we all look forward to cigs. from home. A. McQuarrie.

Dear Friends: I received the tobacco and many thanks. I am fine and wish the Legion the best of luck. Things look better than they did a year ago and I hope to see the finish soon. Sgt. Vollandorf.

Dear Sirs: I have received within the last few months 2 shipments of cigarettes for which I express my sincere thanks. Things are going fine and the weather is grand. Haven't seen any of the local boys for some time. Allow me once again to thank you for the generous donation of cigarettes. Joe Sikora.

Bitter Experience

"How did you make out with your Victory Garden last year?" "Well, I learned a lot of things that ought to help me get a crop this year". —Pathfinder.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The Egyptian government has decided to recognize Russia, according to an announcement made in Cairo.

A bullock was sold for the equivalent of $50,000 out of Stratford-on-Avon to aid the R.A.F. Benevolent fund.

The Grand Cross of the Legion has been conferred on Gen. Dwight Eisenhower by Gen. Henri Giraud, the Algiers radio said.

Labor Minister Ernest Bevin said in a speech that 25,000,000 out of 46,000,000 people in Britain now are mobilized in the armed forces or in war work.

The British minesweeper Albacore has sent the equivalent of $125 to the town of Ashford, Kent, for relief of air raid victims.

During an R.A.F. raid on St. Nazaire, German U-boat base, the prison was set on fire. The wardens opened the cell doors and prison gates and allowed the prisoners to escape.

The sum of $135,000 in United States funds has been allocated for the 1943 program of Ducks' Unlimited, Canadian, by Ducks' Unlimited Inc.

Scientists have succeeded in a device from which wrecked seamen can distill sea water into fresh water in lifeboats. Three types will be fitted into lifeboats as ships come into British ports.

Trial plots of rye, never before grown in Uganda, have proved so successful the protectorate hopes to grow enough this year to supply the needs of 7,000 Polish refugees in the colony.

Two-Piece Favorite

By ANNE ADAMS
Your favorite outfit for busy summer days will be this two-piece Anne Adams style, Pattern 4332. It's so neat, trim and right! The yoked blouse has smart, simple lines. The well-cut skirt has one slimming front panel. Choose a gay print or a cool sheer fabric.
Pattern 4332 is available only in women's sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46. Size 36 takes 3 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric.
Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man. "Because of the slowness of the mails delivery of our patterns may take a few days longer than usual."

JUST NAMES

"Yep," says Uncle Hiram, "when a feller has to know the botanical name of what he raises, the synthetical name of his fertilizer, the entomological name of the bugs that eat it, the pharmaceutical name of what he sprays on it, and the profanational name of what he gets for it—well, it's time to do some figuring and see what it costs a man to live."

SHOULD BE BRANDED

Meat is to be stamped, to discourage the "black market." It's a pity, says the Ottawa Journal, those who sell—and buy—on the black market couldn't be stamped also. A large "C" (for Chisler) in indelible ink in the middle of the forehead would be most appropriate.

New Box Car Gets First War Load

This car, one of 2,000 new box cars being built for the Canadian National Railways to handle the increasing volume of war traffic over the lines of the National System, is shown above at the plant of National Railways Munitions Limited being loaded with naval guns manufactured at this subsidiary of the Canadian National Railways. The car bears the new maple leaf design with the System slogan. The big crane handling the gun being placed in the car is operated by Noella Beaudet. Inset is close-up of Miss Beaudet operating the crane. There are seven girls working as crane operators in this big war plant.

The box in which the naval gun barrel is encased for travel is a special product of the Canadian National Railways Montreal wood mill shop. The box is of unusual design with interior bracing to hold the barrel firmly in place, while on the exterior steel pieces strengthen the car and provide loops to enable crane hooks to take hold when transferring to and from the freight cars at terminals.

Fighting T.B.

Saskatchewan To X-Ray All Indians On Reserves

Regina, Sask.—X-ray of Indians in every reserve in Saskatchewan has been started by the Department of Indian Affairs in an effort to find and treat all tuberculosis cases among them.

M. Christanson, superintendent of Indian affairs at Regina, said, "It is the intention of the department that every Indian man, woman and child be X-rayed."

As tuberculosis among the white population of Saskatchewan is being eradicated, there have been complaints that the Indian reservations have remained "pools of infection," endangering the white population living near the reserves. The Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League has already demonstrated that tuberculosis among the Indians can be wiped out as well as among white people, which it had to prove a number of years ago.

Must Look Careworn

So Nazi Artist Must Retouch Recent Portrait of Hitler

A new portrait of Hitler, painted by the Nazi artist Josef Schmitt, which was to have been shown in a Berlin gallery in May, was withdrawn—to be repainted as a healthy, fresh-faced, well-fed Fuehrer, confident and apparently without a care.

It was realized that this aspect did not conform to Goebbels' recent propaganda describing Hitler's careworn face reflecting the sufferings of his people. So Kurt Schmitt has now to paint in the lines of worry and anxiety before his picture can be exhibited.—London Daily Sketch.

A REAL ASSET

Being not only an income tax exemption but also good now for two pounds of meat a week (inc. bone and gristle), Junior is even more of a blessing than ever, says the Ottawa Citizen.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: Because the earth does not spin around its orbit in an upright position, but leans at an angle, the southern hemisphere has short days when the northern hemisphere has long days, and vice versa.

REG'LAR FELLERS—Nobody's Fool

Has Good Reason

Trade Commissioner Tells Why Britain Wants Lean Bacon
George R. Paterson, Canadian Animal Products Trade Commissioner in London, England, who was in Ottawa recently, made some observations on why Britain wants lean bacon.

"Bacon production in Canada is now at the highest point on record. This may enable the 4-ounce bacon ration for the people of Britain to be maintained," said Mr. Paterson. "While the British bacon ration is not included in the general meat ration, nevertheless it is a very important part because the official meat ration is not what might be considered generous. It consists of an amount of meat to the value of 26 cents per week with average weight of slightly more than one pound. The additional food provided by four ounces of bacon should consequently contain as high a percentage of animal protein as is found in any good, lean meat."

"While there is a comparative shortage of fats in Britain there are more economical ways of providing fat than by shipping it in the form of fat bacon."

"Though it is important to provide the quantity of bacon requested by Britain from Canada—675,000,000 pounds this year—it is equally important that the hogs produced for bacon for Britain should not be overfed—or in excess of a weight of 220 lb. live weight when marketed."

USED MACHINE

Vegetable growers in the United Kingdom have brought their business to such a point that complete mechanization has almost been reached. Last winter 650 tons of carrots were lifted and stored entirely by machine, at the rate of around 2 1/2 acres a day. The yield was close to 30 tons per acre.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JUNE 13

GOD'S EXCEEDING GREAT PROMISES

Golden text: He hath granted unto us his precious and exceeding great promises; that through these ye may become partakers of the divine nature. II Peter 1:4.
Lesson: II Peter 1:1-11.
Devotional reading: Colossians 3:12-17.

Explanations and Comments

Words of Greeting, 2 Peter 1:1, 2. Peter, a servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, begins his epistle with words of greeting to those "that have obtained a like precious faith with us in the righteousness of our God and the Saviour Jesus Christ. Such is the absolute fairness of God (Peter tells these Christians) that you have obtained a faith as precious as that given to us—Peter and other apostles. Grace to you and peace be multiplied unto you in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord. "Here the theme of the homily is laid down, and in the next paragraph the writer proceeds to expound it. As the meaning of Christ is realized by Christians, they enter more and more into what God's grace means, i.e., his free favor and forgiving power; also they experience more and more of his peace; that is, the bliss and security realized by Christ in the lives of believers." (James Moffat.)

God's Exceeding Great Promises, 2 Peter 1:3, 4. Inasmuch as his power divine has bestowed on us every requisite for life and piety by the knowledge of him who called us to his own glory and excellence—bestowing on us thereby promises precious and supreme; that by means of them you may escape the corruption produced within the world by lust, and participate in the divine nature (Moffat's translation).
"Those who have the true knowledge of God and Christ, in contrast with the false knowledge paraded by those whom the author opposes, have been completely endowed with the capacity to live a truly godly life. This gift has been obtained only through the kindness and efficacy of divine power itself. Not by their own virtue or right, but through the favor of heaven, have believers acquired this privilege. It insures escape from condemnation for past sins and also a genuine transformation of the human being so that he now possesses a truly divine nature. This change has made possible escape from the corrupting life of the flesh, and an elevation of experience to a newer and higher plane where worldly lusts no longer have power over the Christian."

God's promises are sure. The value of a promise depends upon the ability and willingness of the promise-maker to fulfill. Abraham was fully persuaded that what God promised he was able to perform, declares Paul (Rom. 4:21), and in the letter to the Hebrews (10:23) it is said "he is faithful that promised."

It is estimated that in the production of parts for one torpedo, workers perform about 20,000 separate operations.

UNPASTEURIZED MILK

The regrettable death of Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, at the age of 49, after a short illness with undulant fever, proves once again that disease is impartial as to whom it strikes down. It shows that even those who may be assumed to have the best of medical care cannot afford to take a chance on raw milk and milk products.

Somewhere, somehow, this wealthy industrialist, who was probably meticulous about his diet and generally enjoyed a protected life, was infected with the organism responsible for Bang's disease in cattle, which is transmitted to humans in unpasteurized milk, butter and cheese. Bang's disease, also known to cattle men as contagious abortion, is prevalent in various parts of Canada. It can be eradicated in the same way as bovine tuberculosis, by testing all cattle herds and removing diseased animals.

The danger of infection of humans is particularly grave in summer, when people who are ordinarily careful about their milk supply and live in communities where pasteurization is enforced, go for vacation to summer resorts, beaches, farms, and other places where milk is sold raw. The same danger besets young people who go to the farms to help out in the present labor emergency.

While milk is a body-builder and a necessary food, it is a potential killer in its raw state. Vacationists should boil their milk if it has not been pasteurized. It is better to drink no milk at all than the raw product. Not only undulant fever, but also tuberculosis, typhoid, scarlet fever, diphtheria and septic sore throat organisms are transmitted in raw milk and milk products.

The Health League of Canada is urging the other Canadian Provinces to follow Ontario's example by ordering compulsory pasteurization of all milk sold in urban centres. When that is done, a large part of the country's population, both rich and poor, will be protected against milk-borne diseases. That these diseases continue to take a considerable toll of life and sickness is due only to the willingness of the people to suffer them. They are all preventable.

It is exceptional to find birds one mile above the earth, and only a few are found at 3,000 feet, according to aviators.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

By Fred Neher

"I don't see what you're kicking about . . . you're having your dinner at the usual time."

BY GENE BYRNES

YOUR BREAD IS TOPS!

ENSURES EASY BAKING—MAKES LUSCIOUS, SWEET-TASTING, EVEN-TEXTURED LOAVES

WRAPPED AIRTIGHT TO PROTECT POTENCY—ALWAYS DEPENDABLE!

Protein For Chicks

Can Be Home-Produced If Commercial Feeds Not Available

Where prepared commercial feeds or concentrates are not available in sufficient quantities as chick starters, home mixed feeds should be used, state poultry officials of Dominion Department of Agriculture. There, grains and chicks can be successfully started on ground grains, supplemented by home produced protein feeds.

Hard boiled fertile eggs mixed with bread crumbs or ground grains have given a start to many fine broods of chicks. Sour milk curd treated in the same way makes an excellent feed and even where the supply of milk is too limited to permit making curd, the milk may be used to moisten the grains, and a supply kept at hand for chicks to drink. Animal or fish offal may be boiled and the soup and solids may be mixed with ground grains to carry the chicks over the starter period, after which they can get along on grains and good green range.

When it is necessary to follow those methods, care should be taken to feed only what the chicks can eat in a short time; any feed left after half an hour's feeding should be removed. With this method of feeding, chicks should be fed four to six times daily. Chicks should be allowed outside where they can get all the green feed and sunshine possible. Early in the season, vitamin fish oil should be included in the ration.

A 1,000,000-volt X-ray machine has had a change of duty because of the war. It is used to detect flaws in gun-turret castings.

PATTERN FOR DISASTER

BY J. B. RYAN

CHAPTER VI.

"GUILLERMO—William—Wilhelm." Tio Pancho wagged his unkempt head. "Don Felix could be a Nazi agent. Those Germans are usually fond of music."

Morgan nodded agreement. "In spite of the care I exercised, Guillermo has all the supposedly secret maps and war plans of Argentina he needs."

"Yes, Lt. Morgan," said Esteban Velasquez. "I am an agent of the Secret Service. I am a part of it. Your story is interesting, but—how do we know that you speak the truth?"

"Take me to Capt. Rojas. The fingerprints on the cocktail glass have been photographed by this time. Rojas will tell you that I am guilty of Col. Velasquez's death. In fact, the real killer, Señor Verde, is probably under arrest now."

Young Velasquez frowned. "We cannot take the chance. If those fingerprints should prove to be yours."

"Esteban," Rosita's dark eyes moved from Morgan to her brother. "We must give Lt. Morgan his chance. You could return to the Casa Grande. As Uncle Miguel's nephew, it would be natural for you to question Capt. Rojas. If the lieutenant's story is true, the police will tell you what the fingerprints revealed."

"Bueno," approved Tio Pancho. "Rosita and I shall watch the American until you return."

"Very well," Esteban yielded. "But I insist that this fellow be tied up before I leave you alone with him. Morgan," she apologized, "that you must remain tied in such an uncomfortable position."

"I do not mind," Morgan assured her pleasantly. "The fact that you have sent Esteban back to the Casa Grande indicates that, whether you know it or not, you are inclined to believe my story. I consider that the best piece of luck that has come my way since I have been in Buenos Aires."

His good humor was infectious. "What you say is correct, señor," Rosita admitted with a smile. "You are a man of honor, and I believe you. I am sure that the United States would appreciate the things of which you seem to be guilty."

"My reason is more personal," he said. "There is nothing like individual friendships to create national amity. I gather that you and your brother are a dancing team at the Cafe Blanco. After this mess is cleaned up, you'll find me in a ring-side seat every time you do your act for the rest of my stay."

"You will not be wasting your time, American," Tio Pancho declared positively. "The tango, as danced by Rosita and Esteban—"

He paused. From the alley without had come the sound of an automobile, the motor roaring to such an extent that it seemed the car was passing the house at top speed. But Tio Pancho tilted his head. "It is Esteban."

"No," Rosita rose quickly, to face the door somewhat apprehensively. "Esteban has not had time—"

"Then it is the friends of the American!" Tio Pancho's hand found his dagger once more. "It was a trick—to send Esteban away—"

BUT before the stevedore could reach Morgan with the knife, the door flew open and Esteban Velasquez dashed into the room, slowing only when he perceived that Rosita and Pancho were present, and that Morgan was still roped to the chair. "Thank God!" exclaimed Rosita. "Didn't you go to the Casa Grande?"

"Yes," nodded Esteban. "And I drove like mad to get back here before this accident could harm you. Sending me to the hotel was a subterfuge—nothing more."

He was glaring at Chris Morgan with a malevolence that puzzled the American. Something was wrong. If, as Esteban claimed, he had been to the Grand Hotel, he should have returned smilingly instead of with a more hostile than before. "You saw Capt. Rojas, señor?" Morgan asked.

"I did," Esteban nodded again. "What did you hope to gain, you murderer, by your lies, if you did not make some effort to escape during my absence?"

"Esteban," cried Rosita. "You mean—Lt. Morgan lied to us?"

Esteban nodded heavily. "He is a murderer. Not only did he kill Uncle Miguel, but he also killed Señor Diaz."

Morgan shook his head. "You have been misinformed, señor. Diaz? I know no Señor Diaz."

"Diaz is the fingerprint expert who took the glass from which you drank. Diaz has been shot and the glass smashed to fragments. Capt. Rojas knows you have left the Casa Grande and the police are scouring the city for you."

"But—" For a moment Morgan was stunned. "But—Rojas should know I had no opportunity to kill Diaz! He and you can account for every moment of my time since the body of Colonel Velasquez was discovered."

ESTEBAN laughed in disbelief, his teeth a white line against his dark face. "You shall play no more tricks on us, señor."

"It must have been Guillermo who destroyed the glass," insisted Morgan. "Don't you see? Someone he suspected that the prints on that glass were not mine. Something I said probably caused him to smell a rat."

"If that is true, you are in an unfortunate position. The fingerprints of Señor Verde are gone, and there remains only you to be charged with the crime. Remember, if Rosita is placed under oath she will have to testify that she found Uncle Miguel's papers in your room."

"The American glanced at the girl, who avoided his eyes. Morgan cleared his throat. "In spite of the evidence against me, won't you come on faith a while longer? If you will release me—"

"Would you surrender to Rojas?" Esteban asked.

"No, I—you see, this Guillermo has stacked the cards against me. I would like a chance to prove my innocence, and would have to keep away from the authorities until that is done."

"But," Rosita objected. "If you fall into the hands of the police, the Velasquez honor will be threatened. That, above all, is what we must prevent."

"If I establish my innocence, it would follow naturally that the name of Colonel Velasquez will be cleared."

"No," Esteban said flatly. "You shall not be freed. We shall deal with you ourselves."

"Perhaps," returned Esteban. "You showed no mercy to Uncle Miguel—nor to Señor Diaz."

"But, Esteban," Rosita's voice faltered, now that the affair she herself had instigated was nearing its climax. "We must make no mistake. If, if Señor Morgan is telling the truth—"

LET me decide for you, my little ones," said Tio Pancho. "Burn those documents over that lamp and go away, both of you. Leave this American with me. His harsh voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your knife-throwing Irish voice became more grim. "In the morning a corpse will be found floating in the river and this matter will be settled once and for all."

His voice died suddenly in a whisper, his mouth open on an unuttered word. Tio Pancho was staring beyond Morgan and Esteban. Then with a muffled snarl, the grizzled man was on his feet, grabbing for the knife he had placed on the table. "Behind you, Esteban!" he cried. "Quickly—"

The bark of a pistol crashed through the room and the lifting knife was kicked out of the hand of Pancho. Morgan's head jerked toward the door. The door had been opened noiselessly, and in the room stood three men: Guillermo, Verde and De Nova.

"Drop that gun, Señor Velasquez," said the musician. "Iest I did a bullet through your hand as I said that of your

Seeks Information re Coal Company

On a recent train trip from Vancouver to Coleman, Mr. George Pattinson, of Victoria, B.C., and former mayor of Coleman, became engaged in conversation with a fellow passenger, R. G. Joy, of Nelson, B.C. Mr. Joy told Mr. Pattinson that he had some shares in a coal company in the Crow's Nest Pass, the certificates for which he had found in going over some old boxes which had been in his house for a long time. Mr. Pattinson told him he would buy them if he would forward the certificates, as he thought they were shares in the International Coal Co. of Coleman.

Subsequently Mr. Joy wrote to Mr. Pattinson the following: In reference to shares, I find that I made a mistake in the name of the company. It is the Northwest Coal and Coke Company Ltd., non assessable non-personal liability, issued under Section 63 respecting mining companies of the Companies Ordinance, capital $3,000,000, divided into 30,000 shares of $100 each, head office, Fort Macleod, Alberta. The certificates state that Jas. Neelands is the owner of ten shares of capital stock of the N.W. Coal and Coke Co., and are dated January 29, 1903, signed by B. B. Mighton, secretary, and L. Ernst, president.

Mr. Joy adds as a footnote: If you can find out if these are of any value, kindly let me know.

FINANCIAL

PERSONAL LOANS
for Taxes, Fuel Purchases and other Seasonal Needs

ONE YEAR TO REPAY
Apply to the nearest branch of

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE
Monthly Deposits Provide for Repayment

If you borrow	You Receive	You Make Monthly Deposits of
$50	$55.87	$4.50
$75	$83.71	$6.75
$100	$114.80	$9.00
$125	$149.72	$11.25
$150	$189.54	$13.50
$200	$255.34	$18.00

Other Amounts at Proportionately Low Rates
YOUR ESTATE IS PROTECTED BY LIFE INSURANCE, WHICH THE BANK ARRANGES

DIRECTORY

BUY from those firms whose cards appear under this heading. They are loyal supporters of Coleman institutions and merit your business.

SUMMIT LODGE

No. 30, A. F. & A. M.

Regular meetings held first Thursday of each month at 8 p.m. Visiting Brethren cordially invited.

J. A. Park, W.M.

Maurice W. Cooke, Secretary.

Grand Union Hotel

Modern Fully Licensed
Coffee Shop In Connection
L. S. RICHARDS — Manager

MODERN ELECTRIC

RADIO REPAIRS—
RADIO TUBES—
FREE TESTING—

Electric Wiring and Alterations
Westinghouse Dealer

EAT AT

COLEMAN CAFE

BEST MEALS IN TOWN

— Reasonable Prices —

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

We are AUTHORIZED DISTRIBUTORS

J. M. CHALMERS
Jeweler

THE COLEMAN JOURNAL

Published Every Thursday at Coleman, Alberta. Membership in Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and Alberta Div. C.W.N.A.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Tragedy Of War Strikes Home

The tragedy of war struck home with a sickening blow this week when it became known that one of Coleman's own youngsters had paid the supreme sacrifice in action overseas.

We read in the papers and hear on the radio of this man or the next man being killed in action but because we do not know them personally we are on the whole unmoved. It is when we have known a youngster almost from the cradle until he goes to war and then hear of his tragic death does war's tragedies hit cruelly back. Then we are really awakened to war and see it in its true perspective. We think back to his quiet smile, his mannerisms, his likes and dislikes, see him again in action on a tennis court, tumbling, behind the wheel of a car or busy at his work bench building model airplanes. Hear again his plans for the future which beckoned before him. To stop the lust for world power of Hitler and his gang, youngsters, the cream of Canadian youth, must sacrifice their innocent lives so that we might live a free people. Deep as the sorrow is for his parents, it will be to Canadians as a whole to see that he, and thousands of young men like him, have not sacrificed their lives in vain.

Greek Relief Fund

Within the next week or two Coleman citizens will be asked to give a small contribution to the Greek War Relief Fund. Those who read their daily newspaper and certain pictorial magazines are well aware of the suffering and tortures endured the past few years by our heroic allies, the gallant Greeks.

They held back the Italian legions and would probably have defeated them in battle had not the Nazi hordes descended upon them with modern mechanized equipment to crush them into defeat. Stores of foodstuffs in Greece were taken to Germany leaving the helpless Greeks to starve. Hundreds of thousands have starved to death, mothers and children to-day stalk through the streets in search of food scraps. You can help alleviate that suffering by contributing to the Greek War Relief fund when called upon. Do your bit to help the gallant Greeks.

Fill Out Your Income Tax Form

The efficiency of Canada's war effort rests upon the efficiency of the Canadian taxpayer to fill in his 1942 income tax by June 30 at the latest.

The flow of men and war material must be paid for by money raised from the public both by borrowing and taxation. Another important point why the tax form should be made out promptly is that not until your tax form has been received by the government can it issue you a receipt for tax paid and money saved during 1942 by the compulsory savings measure. Fill out your tax form promptly as many new taxpayers will be filling out similar forms and a steady stream of forms can be more easily handled by government employees than an avalanche of forms the last two or three days in this month.

British Industries In Wartime

Another in a series of articles written by W. R. Legge and C. V. Charters, who represent the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association in a recent tour overseas.

(Article No. 23)

By Walter R. Legge

To report on British Industries was not one of our main objects of our trip to Britain, and we did not make the intensive study of them that we did of the fighting forces and services. However, we were given an opportunity to visit some plants and to see what British workers are doing to help win the war.

Probably the most interesting of the plants we visited was an immense underground factory which was just going into production. These underground factories are not dug out especially for the purpose. There are many large caverns, some natural and others the result of years of mining, which can easily be converted into good factories.

A large elevator took us ninety feet below the surface of the ground to where this factory is located. The factory itself covers a vast area and only uses a small part of the cavern. One of our guides told us that he had gone down into the cavern before war and had been started and he would have been lost if he had not been with a local guide who knew it well.

The floor has been cemented and the walls and pillars painted a light color. This underground factory is brilliantly illuminated by fluorescent lights. The ventilation is wonderful. Air is taken from above ground, cleaned and heated, and distributed by ducts under the floor, while the used air is carried off at the roof. An example of modern scientific methods is found in the disposal of sewage. It is pumped to the surface and chemically treated to extract gases which are used to propel the factory service cars. The factory is surprisingly clean and bright. It is hard to believe that it is ninety feet underground.

There is a large restaurant underground as well as another on top of the ground. Each of them is capable of serving several thousand employees in a scientific and efficient manner.

One of the problems in connection with this factory was the supply of labour. The number of workers at hand was limited. This has been overcome by bringing workers there in large numbers of buses and by building dormitories and houses. The dormitories are made up of single and double rooms, compact, but well furnished and comfortable. The buildings are of stone brick and appeared to be fireproof and substantial. The houses, some of which we were shown through are small but bright and comfortable, and planned to make the most of every bit of space. They are certainly a big improvement on the average workman's home.

We also visited aircraft factories, aircraft engine factories and other munition factories.

One morning we arrived at one of these factories. The entrance was not very impressive. In fact it looked more like some residential flats than a factory. Yet we spent most of the day going from building to building to see various operations in progress. A fine lunch was served to us in the executive offices. The exact number of employees cannot be given but it was in the tens of thousands.

A very large portion of the workers are women, many of them doing jobs that it was once thought could only be done by men. Before the war these women were hairdressers, barmaids, waitresses, school teachers, shop assistants, domestics and workers in smaller industrial plants. Others had never worked before.

Some of the machinery in this factory was made in the United States, but much of it bore nameplates of British firms.

The general appearance and operation of this and other factories is about the same as in similar factories in Canada and the United States. However, closer study shows that operations are probably more broken down and scattered than on this side of the Atlantic. There is a good reason for this. In using so many workers with little experience in their particular work, it was easier to teach them one simple operation than it would have been to teach them to handle a complicated machine which would do several operations at once.

The system is also more flexible. If some part is knocked out by enemy action or otherwise, the entire production will not be stopped.

These factories are unexcelled for precision of craftsmanship, and their production targets are continually being exceeded. This is going to be a big factor in overcoming the Hun. Latest reports are that the Germans are worried over the superiority of the English in precision and quantity of production.

Most of the employees work 56 hours a week. When we had a conference with Britain's Minister of Labour, Mr. Ernest Bevin, he told us that there is no gain in working more than 56 hours a week, and that he was trying to get it down to 53, or 52 hours a week. He added, "We are in the fourth year of the war. Most of the virile people have been taken for the armed forces. Age groups in industry are higher. Forty-seven is the average age of Liverpool dockworkers, and in the building trades, the average age is from forty-five to forty-six."

We asked two different Cabinet Ministers if England had reached the saturation point in manpower. One answered that there was no such thing as a saturation point in labour, and another replied, "We are a long way past the saturation point."

FAT IS AMMUNITION!

Fat and bone conservation begins at home and ends in the firing line

- DO YOU KNOW -

One pound of fat supplies enough glycerine to fire 150 bullets from a Bren gun.

Two pounds of fat will fire a burst of 20 cannon shells from a Spitfire or 10 anti-aircraft shells.

Bones produce fat and aircraft glue.

If we saved fat at the rate of one ounce per person per week this would mean 36,000,000 pounds per year, enough to produce 3,600,000 pounds of glycerine for explosives.

OUR FIGHTERS DEPEND ON YOU

"Every householder who delivers to a retail butcher, collector, or Salvage Committee, any rendered or unrendered fats or bones shall be entitled to receive from the person to whom they are delivered 4 cents per pound net weight for rendered fats, and 1 cent per pound for unrendered fats."

The above paragraph is a direct quotation from Order A-642 of The Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

"Rendered fat" means fat melted down and strained to remove solid matter. It includes drippings and strained pan grease resulting from the cooking of meat.

"Unrendered fat" means raw or partially cooked fat free from lean meat and bone, but not fully rendered.

"Bones" means raw or cooked bones of cattle, sheep and hogs.

EVERY OUNCE COUNTS!

SAVE AND STRAIN EVERY DROP TO SPEED VICTORY. SELL IT TO YOUR BUTCHER OR GIVE IT TO YOUR SALVAGE COMMITTEE.

NOTICE TO BUTCHERS, HOTELS, ETC.

You have been mailed a copy of Order A-642. This Order affects operators of hotels, restaurants and other establishments where meals are served. It is of immediate importance to butchers and slaughterers. If your copy has been lost, you can obtain another from the nearest office of The Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

Invasion Of Europe Appears Near

The world stands tense as the invasion hour approaches. Nazis and Italians fearfully speculate where the invasion blow will fall.

Are You Helping In The Invasion?

Perhaps you have a member of your family in the armed forces who will take part in the invasion. Are you backing HIM up?

The more money you invest in bonds, savings stamps and certificates, the more and better equipment will be placed in the hands of your son with which to strike at the enemy and so help protect himself.

Let your dollars lead the invasion in the form of bombs and shells.

Buy More War Savings Certificates and Stamps

This space donated by

McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co., Ltd.

and

International Coal & Coke Co., Ltd.

The Churches

ST. PAUL'S UNITED CHURCH
June 13.
Minister: J. E. Kirk.
11 a.m. Morning Worship. Rev. A. A. Lytle, M.A., Secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society will preach at this service.
12.15 p.m. Sunday School.
7 p.m. Evening Worship.
We welcome you at these services.

ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH
Rev. J. R. Hague, A.Th., Incumbent.
Whit Sunday
8 a.m. Holy Communion.
2 p.m. Sunday School and Bible Class.
7 p.m. Evensong and sermon.
...V...

WEDDINGS

BORROWS-BURTON

A wedding of much interest in Cranbrook was solemnized at the United Church on Thursday of last week at five p.m., when Eva Gertrude, daughter of Mr. William A. Burton, of this city, became the bride of Pius William Lawless Borrows, R.C.M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Borrows, of Coleman, Alberta. Rev. R. E. Cribb was the officiating minister.

Given in marriage by her father the bride looked lovely in her wedding gown of white silk with lace top, traditional white veil, floral headress and wearing silver slippers. She carried a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mrs. S. Willcome, sister of the bride, as matron of honor was attired in a becoming floor-length gown of sky-blue satin, with white shoes and accessories.

The groom was supported by William MacDonald as best man, and at the opening and closing of the ceremony the wedding marches of Lohengrin and Mendelssohn were played by the organist, T. S. Beynon.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, 235 Lumsden avenue, where Mrs. E. D. Rogers, sister of the bride, assisted in receiving, with Mrs. Beynon, one of the groom, who wore dress of delicate pink rayon, belted style, self-trimmed, with matching hat.

The groom's gift to his bride was a gold chain bracelet; to the matron of honor a pearl necklace. The bride's gift to the groom was a silver identification disc.

Among those at the reception were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Syd. Willcome, Mrs. E. D. Rogers and Miss Ninette Burton. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Price, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Digley, Miss Ethel Dingley, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. MacDonald, Mrs. D. A. Kay, Messrs. S. Willcome, A. R. McPherson, Stan McNeil and Lew. Willcome.

Later the young couple left on a wedding trip to Coleman, Alberta, the bride travelling in a dress of blue printed rayon, black coat and hat and black pumps.

Pte. and Mrs. Borrows have made no decision as to their future home, the matter depending upon where the groom is stationed with his unit, possibly Ottawa, Ontario.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Borrows are well known here, the bride having been born in Cranbrook, attended local schools and for three years prior to her marriage was on the staff of the Cranbrook post office.

The groom is a native son of Coleman, Alberta, is a graduate pharmacist, and prior to his enlistment in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in that capacity was on the staff of Beattie-Noble Ltd. for a number of years.

KUBASEK-NILSON

St. Alban's church was the scene on Saturday morning, June 5, for the wedding of Edith Lurana Nilson, of Maycroft, to Steve Kubasek, of Tod Creek. Rev. J. R. Hague officiated.

The bride, gowned in white crepe with a corsage of talisman roses, was attended by Rose Oliver, who wore a heavenly blue crepe dress, with a bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Joseph Kubasek, of Tod Creek, supported the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home at Maycroft. The young couple will reside at Tod Creek where the groom is employed by an oil company.

Salvation Army Notes

Lieutenant R. D. Marks and Lieutenant S. Nahirney with four delegates from Coleman Corps went to Calgary on Friday, June 4th to hear Lt-Colonel Hoggarth in Young People's Council.

Those who were privileged to go were, besides the officers, Mrs. A. Rhodes of Bellevue, Merna Braiden, Richard Wallace and Vincent Hulbert of Coleman.

Delegates met from all the principal towns in Southern Alberta. The Coleman delegates took part in a demonstration in the Calgary No. 1 hall.

Brigadier Ursaki spoke well of the young people who were able to travel so far to take in the Sessions.

PRESENTATION

Members of the Ladies Aid of St. Paul's United church met at the home of Mrs. H. Dunlop on Thursday, June 3, in honor of Mrs. J. E. Kirk who, with her husband and family, will leave Coleman at the end of the month. Following a social evening during which a dainty luncheon was served, Mrs. M. Fraser, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs. Kirk with a handsome picture of Crow's Nest mountain and voiced regret at her departure from Coleman. A second gift was given Mrs. Kirk when a beautiful picture of Niagara Falls, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Petrunick, was presented to her.

GOVERNOR GENERAL PRAISES OLDER PEOPLE WHO AID BOY SCOUTS

His Excellency the Governor General, the Chief Scout for Canada had words of praise for older people who have taken up the leadership of Scout Troops, when he presided at the Annual Meeting of the Boy Scout Association in Ottawa recently. "I take off my hat to those older people who are taking the places of young Scout leaders who have joined the forces," His Excellency said. He predicted a large increase in Boy Scout membership when the war is over.

A New Angle

Just received a card from a friend who is a defence worker. He writes: "Having a wonderful time in the war and a half." — New Orleans Roosevelt Review.

Do Not Fear!

More people than you realize are retarded in life, and often completely torn to pieces by their fears. Their fears become so habitual and discouraging to their daily effort that they are often prone to surrender entirely to them. Hence, they become slaves to them to such an extent that fear is the foremost trait of their lives.

Do not fear! Your part is to live up to the best you may know and trust that the end result will be favorable.

Do not fear! Most of those who fight will return. Those who do not will not have died in vain. There are some things greater than the preservation of physical life.

Do not fear people, or things, or imaginary forces. Do not fear anything except the violation of truth, as you know it. That alone should be the basis of fear.—Arlie B. Davidson in the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser.

HOW COME?

The horse and mule live 30 years, And nothing know of wine and beers;

The goat and sheep at 20 die And never taste of Scotch or rye; The cows drink water by the ton, And at 18 are mostly done; The dog at 15 catches in, Without the aid of rum or gin; The cat in milk and water soaks, And then at 12 short years it croaks;

The modest, sober, bone-dry hen Lays eggs for noggs, then dies at ten;

All animals are strictly dry— The sinless live and swiftly die— But sinful, gin-full, rum-soaked men Survive for three score years and ten!

—Cpl. Hodges, G.B.

From Scarlet and Gold.

"WDYTICWSS"

This word appeared on a sign above a cash register. Mystified custom asked the cashier what it meant and were in turn asked: "Why don't you take your change in War Savings Stamp?" Hundreds did.

Greensboro (Ga.) Herald-Journal: A news commentator is the fellow who can talk interestingly for fifteen minutes when there is no news.

Brazil's Woodland

Brazil has a billion acres of valuable woodland, covering nearly one-half of its total land area.

Scanlan in Buffalo News: Another thing teachers should impress on children in the lower grades—discretion in the management of their parents.

A Canadian corvette requires 14 tons of anchor chain. Help forge the links by buying all the Victory Bonds you can!

St. Louis Star-Times: If you were to punish those responsible for your troubles, most of the punishment would be self-inflicted.

Milwaukee Journal: Food czar job taken from the Secretary of Agriculture. So there is rest for the Wickard.

Canadian Pacific Spitfires Take Toll of Hun 'Planes

The two Spitfires presented to the Royal Canadian Air Force overseas by officers and employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway from the proceeds of their novel Golden Aircraft Fund have had "very remarkable careers," according to the R.C.A.F. News Service. Pilots flying them have shot down at least seven Hun 'planes, damaged nine and chalked up two probables, and, in addition, Canadian Pacific I and II were the "personal" ships of two Canadian aces when they won the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The two fighter 'planes, pictured on the upper right of the layout above, were paid for by the sale of old gold donated from all over the Canadian Pacific to a fund originated by Miss Gladys Gowland (upper left), of the treasury department in Montreal, who is shown rolling the dice of war out of the barrel and into a model C.P.R. train.

The pilots who "got their gung" while flying the C.P.R. Spitfires are Squadron Leader D. G. (Bud) Malloy, D.F.C., of Halifax (left), who made 16 sweeps with Canadian Pacific II; and Flight Lieutenant G. B. (Scotty) Murray, D.F.C., also of Halifax, who destroyed one enemy aircraft, damaged four and had two probables in 27 sweeps with Canadian Pacific I.

—Photos by R.C.A.F., Toronto Star and Canadian Pacific.

YOU MUST MAKE A 1942 INCOME TAX RETURN NOT LATER THAN JUNE 30TH

...IF SINGLE and your net income exceeded $66000
...IF MARRIED and your net income exceeded $120000

For incomes not over $3000 get two (2) copies of simplified Form T. 1 Special.
For incomes over $3000 get three (3) copies of Form T. 1 General.

Income Tax dollars are not ordinary dollars... they are Victory dollars... necessary dollars to help win the war. Income Tax is fair to all. All are taxed in proportion to their ability to pay.

Under the new system introduced this year, Income Tax is now on a pay-as-you-earn basis. The reduction of the 1942 Tax made this possible.

In most cases the larger part of the reduced tax will have been paid by the 1942 tax deductions or instalment payments. One-third of any balance must be paid by 30th June and the remainder on or before 31st December, 1943.

You must file an Income Tax return and pay any balance to establish your right, after the war, to the refund of the Savings Portion of your tax.

If you are a salary or a wage earner, your employer can probably supply you with Income Tax Forms—otherwise, they are available at your local Post Office or the office of your District Inspector of Income Tax.

Over 2,000,000 Canadians will be filing returns and paying taxes... avoid the last minute rush. If you wait, illness or other unforeseen circumstances may prevent you from getting your return in on time. Avoid penalties by sending in your return NOW!

FARMERS

You must attach to your return on Form T. 1 Special or Form T. 1 General either a statement of your gross income and expenses, or completed Farmers T. 1 Supplemental. The T. 1 Supplemental itemizes all forms of farm receipts and expenses, and is a guide for determining your actual net income. Forms may be secured from your local Post Office or District Inspector of Income Tax.

To help you fill out your Income Tax forms a booklet ("Farmers' Income Tax Guide, 1942") has been prepared to cover the special conditions which apply to farm operations. It can be obtained free on request from your District Inspector. If you don't know his address, just mail your letter to "District Inspector of Dominion Income Tax."

Make your returns NOW!—Avoid Penalties!

DOMINION OF CANADA — DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL REVENUE INCOME TAX DIVISION

COLIN GIBSON,
Minister of National Revenue

C. FRASER ELLIOTT,
Commissioner of Income Tax

WEEK OF FUN!

FIREWORKS MONDAY & SATURDAY

RUNNING RACES

CHUCK WAGON RACES

FOR WAR-TENSED WESTERNERS

Thrill Packed Cowboy Contests

Spectacular Grandstand Show

Livestock and Exhibits

Fun in Frolic Land

Mammoth Parade

ALL AT CANADA'S GREATEST SHOW

Calgary EXHIBITION AND STAMPEDE

JULY 5-10

DEDICATED TO QUALITY FOOD PRODUCTION FOR VICTORY

T. A. HORNIBROOK, Pres. J. CHAS. YULE, Gen. Mgr. Write For Seat Reservations

Roll your owners! Go for Ogden's

Old-timers in the West often took in their essential supplies by mule train. Many included Ogden's for they had discovered it to be a distinctive blend of milder, riper tobaccos. Follow the trail of the old-timers to "make a strike" of perfect smoking satisfaction.

Ogden's quality for pipe smokers, too, in Ogden's Cut Plug

Queen Mary Busy

Misses London But Feels Trip To City Not Necessary

Queen Mary, who quietly observed her 76th birthday recently at the 600-acre estate near a West England village that has been her home since the war began, is devoted to walking, neighborliness and her children. She visits factories and service camps, and shows movies in her home for soldiers and airmen. Forestry is one of her major interests, and occasionally she trims boughs with her own special saw, helping the lumberjacks who have been thinning out the trees on the estate and stacking wood to be carried to the village.

She uses gasoline only for war work and never makes a trip without collecting salvages—bones, bottles, paper and scrap metal. Her Majesty brings back some of the most amazing collections of odds and ends from her drives, an attendant said recently.

Friends say she misses London sadly, especially its museums, shops, theatres and hospitals which she befriended, and longs to return.

Early in the war she went to the capital at least once weekly and sometimes twice. But with restricted travel she never goes now.

"My journey is really not necessary," she says.

Close Call

R.A.F. Wing Commander Arthur Hay Donahue shows what happened to his helmet when an enemy shell ripped past. The shell came through the cockpit as he attacked an enemy aircraft. Knocked unconscious, he recovered, and flew back to his base.

Provides Calcium

High Grade Limestone Can Replace Oyster Shell For Chickens

Because oyster shell which is imported from the United States is becoming scarce, Canadian poultrymen will have to depend to a greater extent on limestone in feeding poultry. High calcium limestone, which is relatively cheap and of which there are many deposits in Canada, makes a satisfactory substitute for oyster shell and if properly graded, may be fed in the same manner.

All limestone deposits are not considered suitable for poultry feeding. The Feeds Administrator points out. Some are low in calcium and high in magnesium. Only a trace of magnesium is required by poultry. Too much may be harmful to chicks. Where limestone is used, the pellets should be started on it, because a change later from oyster shell to limestone may result temporarily in reduced consumption and adversely affect egg production.

FACING BIG DEMAND

The poultry industry of Canada during the next 12 months will be faced with the greatest demand for eggs and poultry it has ever known. At least 100,000,000 dozen eggs will be required for export alone to several countries. In addition, the requirements of the armed forces have doubled since the first year of war and the civilian domestic situation is demanding more and still more eggs.

Tiny white ants in Australia build ant hills three times the height of a man.

HEALTH LEAGUE OF CANADA

VITAMIN B2

The greater the intake of riboflavin in one's daily rations, the better one's general health and the longer one is likely to live, a leading United States nutrition authority states.

If you are interested in good nutrition, you'll have come across the word "riboflavin" before this. It is the name given to a part of the Vitamin B complex, and it is present in milk, eggs, meat (especially liver) and green leafy vegetables. If you are familiar with livestock feeding, you will know that riboflavin is as important in animal food as in human diet.

The interesting thing about riboflavin is that the more you take, the more good it does. Most vitamins are needed in certain quantities and the body cannot make use of a great excess.

A large intake of riboflavin brings about that "feeling of well-being and buoyant good health," which is much better than "average good health" and a great deal better than just not being sick.

A low level of riboflavin brings about signs of old age, a shorter prime of life, a lower level of general health, and if prolonged, will cause a disease known as ariboflavinosis. This ailment is characterized by weakening of the eyes, cracks at mouth corners, digestive disturbances and poor skin condition. These conditions are common, especially among office workers who drink too little milk. For without milk it is difficult to get the optimum amount of riboflavin. The average daily requirement for an adult is 2.2 milligrams (mgm).

Rich Sources of Riboflavin	mgm.	Lesser Sources Of Riboflavin	mgm.
1 cup whole milk	0.53	1 serving cheese	0.12
1 cup skim milk	0.44	1 egg	0.16
1 cup evaporated milk	0.42	4 slices bacon	0.03
1 serving liver	2.07	1 cup beef	0.10
1/2 cup cubed kidney	1.95	1 cup cabbage	0.04
		1 potato	0.06
		1 apple	0.04

A postcard request to the Western Division Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto, will bring you a free copy of our authoritative Vitamin Chart.

Air Bomber Graduates

Class Receiving Wings Recently Included Seven Boys From Princes

Winnipeg (R.C.A.F. News Service) — Nine Canadians, seven from the prairies, one from British Columbia and the other from Hamilton, Ontario, had the wings of graduating Air Bombers in the Royal Canadian Air Force pinned up recently at No. 1 Central Navigation School, Rivers, Man. Group Captain W. A. Murray, commanding officer of the Navigation School presented the badges to a mixed class of Australians, Britons and Canadians.

All of the graduating Canadians enlisted as aircrew, realizing their ambition as they stepped out smartly from the ranks to be winged. One of the lads, LAC. Noel A. Gillespie, of R.R. No. 2, Vernon, B.C., had previously served in the army attaining the rank of sergeant in the 2nd Battalion, British Columbia Regiment. He received a recommendation for a commission in the active army to fly with the R.C.A.F.

The three graduates from Manitoba were students in civilian life. LAC. Walter Alexander, Daniel, Rivers, Man., attended the University of Manitoba; LAC. E. R. Ranson, of Arden, Man., preferred flying to teaching, so he left Winnipeg Normal school to join up. After studying agriculture at the University of Manitoba for two years LAC. Joseph Spector, Winnipeg, Man., enlisted in the R.C.A.F. as aircrew.

Two ex-sportsmen from Alberta and Saskatchewan were in the class. LAC. John Joseph Scully, Grande Prairie, Alta., and LAC. William Taylor, Nottingham, Sask. Scully played baseball in the Toronto garrison league and the Pacific Coast League, and Taylor played softball and baseball.

LAC. Thomas McBeath of Prince Albert, Sask., had six years experience as a store clerk.

Following are the Canadian graduates: LAC. Walter Alexander, Daniel, Rivers, Man.; Noel Arthur Gillespie, Vernon, B.C.; John Grayston, Hamilton, Ont.; Thomas Albert McBeath, Prince Albert, Sask.; Donald Oliver Barton McKinnon, Vancouver, B.C.; Ernest Harold Ranson, Arden, Man.; John Joseph Scully, Rio Grande, Alta.; Joseph Spector, Winnipeg, Man.; William Taylor, Nottingham, Sask.

The OGILVIE FLOUR MILLS COMPANY LIMITED

SMILE AWHILE

A timid soul, visiting a school for paratroops, turned to one of the trainers and said, "How can you hang from that thin silk thing? Isn't the suspense terrible?"

"Now," was the reply. "It's when the suspense ain't there that it's terrible."

Soldier (finding wasp in soup): What's this?

Cook: Vitamin bee.

Impatient old lady awaiting service in a mid-west restaurant to non-com busy with food: "What do you mean by coming in here and eating up all our civilian food? Go on back to camp."

The church collection had fallen off. The minister was worried. One Sunday morning he made this announcement:

"We should have an unusually large collection this morning. But we do not expect contributions from folks who owe grocery bills."

The offering was large.

Folks who save money by not taking a vacation figure that a big roll is better than a loaf.

"Who was that you were talking to for a whole hour at the gate?" asked Mr. Simpson.

"That was Mrs. Smith; she hadn't time to come in," replied his wife.

Saleslady (at greeting card counter): "Here's one with a lovely bit of sentiment: 'To the One and Only Girl I Ever Loved.'"

Sailor: "Fine! I'll take a dozen of 'em."

Father: "It must be time to get up."

Mother: "Why, dear?"

Father: "The baby has just fallen asleep."

"And why is Ben wearing the big plaid vest?"

"Haven't you heard? The doctor told him to keep a check on his stomach."

Lady (as she handed conductor a $10 bill): "I'm sorry I haven't a dime.

Bus Conductor (politely): "Don't worry, madam; you are going to have 99 of them right now."

Sweet Young Thing (to the Corporal): "Did any one ever tell you how good-looking you are?"

Corporal: "Well 'er no. I don't think they ever did."

Sweet Young Thing—Then where did you get the idea.

Determined on a little straight talk, the mistress entered the kitchen. He did it in these trenchant words:

"Mary," she said, "I didn't like the look of the soldier who came here to see you last night."

"No, mum," replied the girl. "An' he wasn't what you'd call taken up with you either."

FIRST THINGS FIRST

If ever a man presented a sound logic strategy Mr. Churchill did it in regard to concentrating on Germany first and then licking Japan afterwards. He did it in these trenchant words: "The defeat of Japan would have no bearing on the fighting strength of Germany, but the defeat of Germany would mean the inevitable defeat of Japan." And that is putting first things first.

RIDICULOUS RUMOR

Red Star, official Russian Army newspaper, ridiculed rumors from Swedish and other foreign sources that Russia was seeking peace with Germany. "Only complete rout of Hitler's army and unconditional capitulation of Hitlerite Germany can bring peace to the suffering nations of Europe," the newspaper asserted.

Had To Be Watered

Power Which Drove Electric Clock Came From Rose Red

When she lived at Gledhow Grange, Mrs. F. J. Kitson was fond of showing her many guests what must have been the first electric clock in Leeds. The clock was on a chimney-piece, but it was driven by a couple of metal plates, each about a square yard in area, one of copper, the other of zinc, sunk in a rose bed in the garden.

Mrs. Kitson would describe how this electric clock had been put in years before she went to live there, and kept good time. But if ever it faltered, the unfailing remedy was to have the rose bed watered, or dosed with liquid manure.

The arrangement was that of a Voltaic pile, and such piles often have a very long life. Somewhere in the Dictionary of National Biography is a reference to a Voltaic pile at the Physical Laboratory in Oxford which for many years had been ringing an electric bell unfailingly, day and night—Leeds Yorkshire Post.

MODERN RANGE FINDER

According to Collier's Weekly a modern range finder on a large bathtub-shaped container holds 160 lenses, prisms and other optical elements besides 1,500 mechanical parts, weighs five tons, costs $35,000 and requires a year and a half to construct, or half as long as the time required to build the entire vessel.

Brighten those Dull Rooms with

ALABASTINE

The Low Cost Water Paint for Walls and Ceilings

For the MODERN KITCHEN

Fine Waxed Food Tissue... in the most convenient "hag-me-up" package... that's Presto Pack... for the modern kitchen. On sale at your grocer's.

Appleford PRESTO PACK WAXED TISSUE

Appleford PAPER PRODUCTS

LIMITED WINNIPEG - EDMONTON SASKATOON CALGARY - REGINA

North Africa

Receives Aid

In North Africa it has already been shown that there are not empty assurances, for as soon as the Allies landed there a North African Economic Board was set up. This board was composed of British and American economic advisers and representatives of supply departments, and it undertook to determine the needs of the country and to meet these needs. It needs to be the best advantage, from the resources of the United Nations. It also dealt with methods for re-establishing local industry. The recommendations of this board were sent to London and decisions were made in reference to the shipment of materials to North Africa. Only eighteen days after the first Allied landings, the British Food Ministry sent a shipment of food to North Africa. This first shipment included three hundred tons of sugar, two hundred tons of canned milk, two hundred tons of soap and ten tons of coffee. Since that time, many other shipments have been sent to supply the territory released from German, Italian and Vichy French domination.

A Sound Basis

For The Future

Supplies sent to North Africa, and those which will be sent to the countries of Europe as soon as their Nazi conquerors are driven back, are not on the basis of temporary relief. They are sent on the basis of a sound economic structure, with the purpose of laying a foundation for a sound economic structure for the future. It is realized that it will not be possible to quickly re-establish the economic structures which have been destroyed by the Axis powers, but it is hoped that a basis may be provided on which a sound structure may later be built. Although it is evident that the demands on their resources will be enormous, we are told that the United Nations have firmly resolved that in their wake, shall come food and supplies so sorely needed by the countries which have been a prey to Germany's cruel policy. Developments in North Africa have shown that these promises will be fulfilled without delay.

Seems To Be Sure

Churchill Says He Will Be Up Yonder At Molly Call

The Washington Merry-Go-Round says the Prime Minister prompted quite a chuckle when someone enquired about the hope expressed in his speech for a conference among himself, President Roosevelt, Joseph Stalin and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Where would the meeting take place? Churchill was asked.

"I don't know and I don't care," he replied. "I'm ready to go any place. I've been about everywhere on this earth, and when the roll—what that expression of yours?—when the roll is called up yonder, I'll be there, too."

The lute, stringed musical instrument, derived its form as well as its name from the Arabs.

The choice of EXPERTS

Famous Radio Engineers Scientists and Explains specify Burgess "Chromobility" radio batteries because they know the outstanding service that they give.

BURGESS BATTERIES

Made From Grain

First Farm Tractor Tire Made From Grain Alcohol

The industrial use of farm crops to make tools for the farmer received a big boost last month when, for the first time, grain was used as the base for a synthetic rubber farm tractor tire.

Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., whose father put the farm on rubber by developing the first practical pneumatic tractor tire, was present to inspect the first of the new tires as it came from the mold at the Firestone plant. This historic tire is one of a set being completed for testing on the Firestone farms.

Nearly 10 bushels or 600 pounds of shelled corn were required to make the butadiene for the first set of tires, all of the famous ground gird variety. Although similar synthetics previously have been used in tires and in hundreds of other products, this is the first time that a complete operation starting with grain and ending with synthetic rubber was carried through with the exclusion of all other synthetics in the manufacture of tractor tires.

The actual process of changing grain to synthetic rubber consists of fermenting the grain to produce grain alcohol, and transforming the alcohol into butadiene, basic ingredient of synthetic rubber, through a chemical reaction.

Synthetics made from grain and petroleum bases have been tested by Firestone research men and show no difference in quality. Used in tires, both synthetics were satisfactory.

There are more than 7,500 varieties of North American apples. 2510

MANY HUNDREDS NOW MOVED TO MORE ESSENTIAL JOBS BY SELECTIVE SERVICE ORDERS

Ottawa.—Approximately 900 men have been moved to more essential jobs as a result of compulsory transfer orders, Arthur MacNamara, director of National Selective Service, told The Canadian Press. "Latest reports we received from selective service offices showed about 9,000 men registered so far under the two orders, and of these about 10 per cent. have already been moved to high priority jobs," Mr. MacNamara said.

It is expected that as local selective service offices become familiar with the transfer procedure there will be a speeding up of the process. Occupations chosen for inclusion in the first orders were designed, labor department officials said, to enable some transfers to be made without imposing too heavy a burden on local offices. Date for the third order has not yet been announced, but it is expected shortly.

The first compulsory transfer order issued by Labor Minister Mitchell, May 4, required men of age groups liable for call-up for military service, to register at selective service offices by May 19. A second order extended the transfer regulations to further types of employment and required these men to register by June 15. The age groups to which the orders apply are single men and childless widowers from 19 to 40 years of age and married men and widowers with children, from 19 to 25 years old.

Manpower promises to provide one of the longest and perhaps sharpest debates of the present parliamentary session. For weeks members of parliament have been making more or less incidental references to it and when Labor Minister Mitchell proceeds with his section of the war appropriations bill, it will be thrown wide open.

The farm labor problem is the principal phase of manpower with which private members appear to be concerned, although the government appears more concerned with the problem of labor for the coal mines.

CONTINUE POLICY

Free Freight Assistance On Western Grains For Livestock Feed

Ottawa.—Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced officially that the free freight assistance policy on western grains shipped to eastern Canada and British Columbia for feeding of livestock, is to be continued.

"This policy was introduced in October, 1941, and in June, 1942, was renewed, to continue indefinitely," Mr. Gardiner's statement said.

"It provides for the payment by the Dominion government of the transportation charges on feed grains from Port William-Fort Arthur to destinations in eastern Canada and from Edmonton, and Calgary to British Columbia points."

Nottingham, England.—Licensing authorities here have ruled that despite any shortage of supplies, licensed houses must be kept open for the convenience of the public. They'll provide shelter against inclement weather, if nothing else.

CANADIAN BACON BOARD NOW HAS THE POWER TO CONTROL DISTRIBUTION OF ALL MEAT

Ottawa.—The Canadian bacon board has been reconstituted as a meat board, with power to control distribution of all meat, Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced.

Mr. Gardiner said in a departmental statement that introduction of meat rationing, which came into effect late last month, might make it necessary to control distribution of all meat, as well as bacon and ham, through agreements.

It might also be necessary to control processing of meat so that when supplies were plentiful some would be set aside for periods of short supply.

The statement said: "The meat board now will have the responsibility of carrying out all contracts or agreements with respect to the export of meat entered into by the government of Canada with any external governments or agencies of such governments.

"In conducting its export operations, the meat board will act in conformity with government policies

Bomber Leader

Air Commodore C. M. "Black Mike" McEwen, M.C., D.F.C., is shown at the desk from which he directs activities of a section of three bomber squadrons in the R.C.A.F. bomber group in Britain. An R.A.F. pilot in the last war and a member of the R.C.A.F. since its foundation in 1924, Air Commodore McEwen has held many commands in Canada and overseas.

WAS WORLD FAMOUS

Dr. Dafoe Who Cared For Dionne Quintuplets Is Dead

North Bay.—Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, 59, who officiated at the birth of the Dionne quintuplets and cared for them until last year, died June 2, in a North Bay hospital. He was suffering from pneumonia.

Dr. Dafoe was stricken shortly after returning from a trip to Toronto. He was known throughout the world as "The Country Doctor" and the man who cared for the Dionne quintuplets when nobody considered them any chance of survival after their birth on May 28, 1934.

Dafoe remained the quintuplets' physician until last year, when he resigned after friction with the quint's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne. He was succeeded by Dr. I. Joyal of North Bay.

CLOSELY GUARDED

British Not Taking Any Chances

WHILE General Von Arnim, London.—Here's proof that things aren't always as they look from the outside.

Nazi Col.-Gen. Jurgen von Arnim, who was captured in Tunisia, is spending his captivity on a beautiful estate in England.

Apparently his main guard is a small dachshund and a couple of unlocked gates.

However, a mile inside the gates there's a heavy barbed wire fence, patrolled continuously by armed sentries.

SEARCH FOR MINERALS

Edmonton.—A party of five members of a Dominion geological survey unit has left Edmonton for Watrous, Alta., on the first leg of a trip into the north country in search of strategic war-needed minerals.

SENT GOOD WISHES

Birthday Greetings Received By King George From President Roosevelt
Washington.—President Roosevelt expressed confidence in the spirit of unity between Britons and Americans, in the war and afterward, in a birthday message of congratulations to King George. The text of his message:

"The occasion of Your Majesty's birthday gives me a welcome opportunity to join in your country's celebration and to send you heartfelt congratulations and good wishes.

"On behalf of the people of the United States, let me also convey their greetings and good wishes to the people of Britain.

"The Allied victory in North Africa has recently given the world an unsurpassed demonstration of what can be done when Britain and America work together. Unity in friendship and purpose has bound together our soldiers on land, our sailors at sea and our fliers in the air. That same bond unites American and British workers in the task of production, transport and supply.

"I am sure that the spirit which has united our people in marching toward victory will direct their efforts after the war towards the goal of a just, lasting and fruitful peace."

A MILITARY POWER

Sir Archibald Sinclair Predicts Canada Will Have Fourth Place

London.—Air Secretary Sir Archibald Sinclair told the House of Commons that Canada will emerge from the war the fourth strongest military power in the world.

He made the statement in speaking for the government in a debate on post-war civil aviation, telling the house that the British government would pursue discussions with the dominions but could not tell them what to do. He presumably referred to Britain, the United States and Russia as being the leading military powers ahead of Canada.

"We have put first in our work the importance of coming to an agreement with the dominions," Sir Archibald said of the government's civil aviation plans. "After the war we shall either be in a world dominated by the United States or the Soviet Union, or the centre of a great empire bound together by air routes."

D. C. Coleman

Over western territory made familiar by years of experience as a railway executive, D. C. Coleman, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is renewing old friendships with business leaders and railway officials from Fort William to Victoria and from the United States border to the end of steel in Alberta. This photograph was taken in Regina, when with the Hon. C. A. Dunning, one of the directors of the railway travelling with him, he was greeted by old friends at the station. Mr. Coleman is making his first tour of the country since he recently added the duties of chairman to those of the C.P.R. presidency which he assumed more than a year ago. His scrutiny will include the expanding operations of the Canadian Pacific Airlines from Edmonton and farther north.

HELPING NAVY

Australian Warships Again In Mediterranean To Aid British

Alexandria, Egypt.—Warships of the Royal Australian Navy are again operating in the Mediterranean, it was disclosed, after a period in which they have concentrated operations in the Pacific following Japan's entry into the war.

The warships were not identified, but the crews were described as among the most experienced in the Australian Navy, with service at Singapore, the Netherlands East Indies and other parts of the Pacific.

Canada's War Leaders

Back from momentous conferences in Washington where they met Allied strategists, Canada's defence minister and the chiefs of the three armed forces are shown as they arrived at Rockcliffe airport, Ottawa, in an R.C.A.F. aircraft. From left to right, they are: Lieut.-General Kenneth Stuart, D.S.O., M.C., Chief of the Army General Staff; Defence Minister J. L. Ralston; Vice-Admiral P. W. Nelles, C.B., Chief of the Naval Staff; and Air Marshal L. S. Broadner, C.B., D.S.C., Chief of the Air Staff. The four were summoned to Washington to assist at the conferences between Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt, Prime Minister King and other Allied leaders.

Royal Family Offers Thanks For Victory

This excellent group photo shows the royal family entering St. Paul's cathedral to give thanks for the United Nations victory in North Africa. The King and Queen are followed by Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret and the Duchess of Kent.

AGRICULTURE MINISTER FOR BRITAIN WORKING ON PLAN EXTENDING OVER FOUR YEARS

London.—Maybe in 1947 Britain's hard working farmers can relax a little. Certainly not before. This year they have doubled the pre-war wheat acreage and are looking about for more means to increase production still more.

Agriculture Minister R. S. Hudson says he has the increase of 600,000 acres of wheat for which he asked last fall and confidently expects to get well over half as much again.

"One of the major difficulties is likely to be labor," he declared. "It is to the townsmen and townswomen, the students, schoolboys and schoolgirls that we must look for help in gathering in the nation's own food."

He referred to his recent statement that he is working on a four-year agricultural plan and explained he did not mean a post-war plan.

"I meant a plan which would take us up to the harvest of 1947," he said. "Lord Woolton (food minister) has asked me to do again in 1944 what we are doing this year, or still better. Farmers may well ask: 'when are your demands on us going to cease or let up?' I can't say, except on a guess, and then not before 1947 at the earliest."

Even victory in Europe, if it comes before 1947, will not bring any easing of agriculture's burden because the demands for food from Britain's soil will be just as great if not greater. Ships will be needed then for purposes other than food carrying and the Japanese must be beaten while the starving people of Europe must be fed.

Already the great efforts of Britain's farmers are hailed as a triumph which means as much as a great victory on land or in the Atlantic for the shipping space they have saved.

Britain's farmers, apart from their great wheat growing, have increased the barley and oats crop by more than 50 per cent. since war started; raised vegetable production from 2,500,000 to 4,000,000 tons; increased the yield of Britain's soil by 70 per cent.; put into use 125,000 tractors, compared with 50,000 when war began, making Britain the most highly mechanized farming country in Europe.

In 1942 British farmers harvested 80,000,000 tons of crops about two-thirds by weight of total for requirements. They now grow enough sugar beet in the islands to supply the household sugar ration.

HARMONY AT FOOD CONFERENCE IS CONSIDERED HAPPY AUGURY FOR CONTINUED ALLIED UNITY

Hot Springs, Va.—The United Nations food conference—first effort of the Allied powers towards a better post-war world ended with program designed to provide more and better nourishment for all mankind.

Richard K. Law, chairman of the British delegation, made the motion for the adoption of the resolutions placed before the plenary session by the drafting committee. Law reviewed the work of the conference and declared its spirit of harmony and collaboration was a happy augury for continued unity among Allied nations.

Judge Marvin Jones said that "what we have found is of profound and lasting significance for the entire world."

"What we have found is this:

"First—compelling confirmation of a united purpose to make effective the pledge of the Atlantic Charter and of the mutual aid agreements for a peace that will afford an assurance that all men in all lands may live out their lives in freedom from fear and want."

"Second—overwhelming evidence that we have in unity the strength to make our purpose effective in peace as we are making it effective in war."

"Third—a convincing and inspiring demonstration that we can work together in practice—in the hard everyday effort that will step by step translate our hopes—and the hopes of all mankind—into reality."

Secretary General Warren Kelchman issued a summation stating "the work of the conference emphasized the fundamental interdependence of the consumer and the producer."

"The need to reach freedom from hunger before seeking freedom from want was understood and resolutions were adopted on the subject," the summation continued. "These covered both the planning of agriculture production and the adoption of measures to prevent violent fluctuations in prices resulting from the shortages of the transition period."

The summation continued: "One of the most important recommendations of the conference is that the governments represented should declare to their own people and to one another their intention to secure more and better food for the people. Various measures which might be taken for this purpose were discussed. These included education, special provision for particular classes of the population, and the improvement of the quality of food available."

NO REQUEST YET

Ottawa.—Trade Minister MacKinnon said in the House of Commons that he had received no request from the Canadian co-operative wheat producers in western Canada asking the initial payment for wheat be raised from 90 cents a bushel to $1, basis No. 1 northern, Fort William.

DANISH SABOTAGE

London.—Radio Denmark said saboteurs have blown up an important German railway station in northern Jutland. The station was an important junction for German troop trains.

Six hundred Royal Navy ships are at sea at any given moment, and at least 2,200 British ships, of which 1,800 belong to the United Kingdom.

For the Hair and Scalp

"Klenzo" Coconut Oil Shampoo

WITH OLIVE OIL

Will not dry the scalp no matter how often you use it.
May also be used for the bath.

Per Bottle 60c

To bring out the natural beauty and color of your hair use NESTLE'S RINSE after Shampooing. In all shades.

5 Rinses for 35c

"JASMINE" WAVE SET POWDER—1 package makes 40 ounces of heavy Waving Fluid.

Per Package 20c

H. C. McBURNEY

Druggist and Stationer Main Street, Coleman
Agent for the Blaimore Greenhouses

The Womens Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion

CEDAR CHEST RAFFLE

Friday, June 18th

See this beautiful piece of furniture in our display window

Tickets on Sale here, 25c each or 5 for $1.00

We will endeavor to duplicate this piece of Furniture should anyone desire same.

Pattinson's Hardware Store

Phone 180 for Orders Large or Small - Service Unexcelled

FISHING TACKLE

We have limited quantities, but nevertheless apparently sufficient tackle on hand to serve our customers' needs for the summer. No change in prices. No change in quality.

Flies	5c and 15c	Sinkers	15c to $1.00
Bait Hooks to gut	5c	Lines	15c to $1.00
and 2 for	15c	Spinners	35c and 45c
6 ft. Leaders	35c	Fishing Bags	$3.00
Gut Material, 10 yd.	35c	Reels	$2.50 and $2.75
rolls, per roll	35c	Salmon Eggs	25c and 60c

SOFT BALLS .. 65c and $2.15 - BATS .. 50c and $2.00

Coleman Hardware and Furniture Co.

W. DUTIL, Mgr.

Phone 68

PALACE THEATRE

HIGH-CLASS

ENTERTAINMENT

— Program For Coming Week —

Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, June 12, 14 and 15
Geo. MONTGOMERY and Maureen O'HARA, in

"10 Gentlemen From West Point"

also NEWS and NOVELTY

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 16, 17 and 18
RUDYARD KIPLINGS IMMORTAL

"Jungle Book"

IN TECHNICOLOR

Special Added Attraction—"INSIDE FIGHTING RUSSIA"

Cole's Theatre, Bellevue

Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, June 12, 14 and 15
Fred MacMURRAY and Paulette GODDARD, in

"Forest Rangers"

Outdoor Action in TECHNICOLOR

also, NEWS - MARCH OF TIME - COLOR CARTOON

Orpheum Theatre, Blaimore

Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, June 12, 14 and 15

DOUBLE PROGRAM

Lloyd NOLAN and Carole LANDIS, in "MANILLA CALLING"

and

"RIDERS OF THE TIMBER LINE"

Local News

Wm. White was a Lethbridge business visitor at the week-end.

Mrs. Roy Thomas left on Saturday for a vacation at the Pacific coast.

Pte. Wm. Borrows left on Friday's train for his base in eastern Canada.

James Lowe is visiting his daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. Lowe, at Sylvan Lake.

Karl Sapeta returned home recently having received his honorable discharge from the army.

St. Alban's Ladies Guild will hold its annual bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 6. Please reserve this date.

The Journal acknowledges with thanks a renewal subscription from Mrs. C. J. Devine and Mr. G. A.
Vissac.

Miss Mary Hillary, who has been very ill, left by ambulance at 1 p.m.
to-day for the Holy Cross hospital at Calgary.

Mrs. D. Howarth, of Calgary, is the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Grane Howarth.

Pte. John Nimcan, Pte. W. Leier and Pte. Mat. Kropenak visited at their respective homes during the week.

BORN: To Mr. and Mrs. Hector McDonald, nee Mamie McLellan, on Wednesday, June 2, at Cadomin hospital, a son.

BORN: To Mr. and Mrs. Dave Pow, nee Dolina McLeod, on Wednesday, June 2, a daughter,
Merel Margaret.

The new summer uniforms for the local air cadets have arrived and will be distributed to the cadets in the near future.

Messrs. J. A. Park and J.
Emmerson are attending the Grand Lodge of Alberta, A.F. &
A.M. at Calgary this week.

Mrs. Wm. Bell, of Nelson, is visiting a number of friends here.
While here she is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kinnear.

Magistrate and Mrs. J. W. Greham left last Thursday for the Pacific coast where they will spend a three weeks vacation.

New York is only 1,605 miles farther from Tokyo than San Francisco by air?

Miss Winnifred McIntyre of Northern Lights School, Clarenholm, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McIntyre at the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGrath and daughter, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Masline, visited at Lethbridge during the week.

PO. Elvino Pontana returned to his base on Tuesday after spending a visit with his wife and young daughter here for a few days.

Mrs. Wes. Vincent arrived here at the week-end and with her husband will shortly move into the house formerly occupied by the late Mr. Arthur Reid.

Mrs. Russell Ferguson left on Saturday for a vacation at Vancouver. While at the coast city she will pay a social call on Mr.
and Mrs. I. Dixon, nee Ethel Dunlop.

Miss Hazel Krzywy, of Lethbridge, has enlisted in the R.C.A.
F. W.D. and is expected home in the next few days before reporting to air force authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Clark and baby daughter and Miss Dorothy Jane Clark arrived from Merco last week to visit relatives here. Mr. Clark left at the week-end for Drumheller where he has accepted a position at one of the mines.

Mr. John Rezac, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. A. Rezac, and sister, Mrs. J. Zemek, both of Frank, left on Tuesday morning for Vancouver. The two ladies will spend a two weeks vacation. Mr.
Rezac will look around for a few days and if suitable employment is found he will reside at the coast.
Mrs. Rezac and daughter will remain at their West Coleman home for the present.

Sam Cooley visited at Lethbridge over the week-end.

Sam Sagoff was in Calgary
this week on a business trip.

Mrs. R. Hubert is spending a holiday with friends at Spring Point.

Mrs. Albert Fauville and Miss Jean Rose left recently for Vancouver on a holiday.

Mrs. J. Baker, of Fernie, is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter,
Mr. and Mrs. George Snood

Miss Doris Bowen, R.N., of the Pearce Air School, has been transferred to eastern Canada.

Mrs. Stan Evesson and daughter Brenda have returned home after spending a holiday at Macleod.

Mrs. W. L. Rippon has returned home after spending a holiday with her daughter, Mrs. V. Brown, of Lethbridge.

Mrs. R. R. Pattinson and Georgann have returned home after a visit with the former's parents,
Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Halliwell, at Macleod.

Mrs. A.L.R. Davidson, of Blair-more, was the official representative of Minerva Chapter, No. 41,
O.E.S. at the Grand Chapter O.E.
S. held at Calgary last week.

"The 1943 Review" from No.
7 S.F.T.S., Macleod, will be in Coleman on Wednesday, June
23, under auspices of Coleman
Lions and Air Cadets. Watch for further announcement.

Mrs. T. Rose and Mrs. Fred Hirst and daughter left at the week-end for Vancouver. Mrs. Rose will reside at the coast city while Mrs. Hirst and daughter will remain there during the summer months.

Leading Stoker and Mrs. Harry Houghton and young daughter arrived from Halifax on Wednesday morning to visit the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Houghton. Mrs. James Ferguson and children, of Calgary are also visiting the former's parents.

The Journal acknowledges with thanks the renewal received from Charles McKinnon this week from Maple Creek. Mack expresses his regret at not being able to meet his many old friends during his recent brief visit but hopes to have more time on his next visit here.

Official announcement is made that the Prince of Wales hotel at Waterton National Park and none of the summer hotels in Glacier National Park to the south will open for the present season. No inter-park Great Northern buses will operate, either, due to wartime conditions.

...V...

In Memoriam

Knowles—In Loving Memory of Albert E. Knowles who so suddenly departed from our midst on June 8, 1939.

"Ever in the Memory of those who loved him best"

Ever remembered by his loving wife Clara and daughters Violet and Pearl, also Dad Clapman.

...V...

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

FOR SALE—Plate glass, 4'x6'.
Apply Albert Sapeta.

FOR SALE: House in East Coleman. Owner moved to eastern Canada. Apply to J. Mataya, east
Coleman, or write J. Strizic, 238
Montrose Avenue, Toronto. 10-17-24.

APPLICATION FOR LEASE OF ROAD ALLOWANCE OR SURVEYED HIGHWAY

Notice is hereby given that H.
Bouthillier of Coleman has made application to the Minister of Public Works, Edmonton for a lease of the following road allowance between N.E. ¼ S. 11 and N.W. ¼ S. 12, ½ mile between section 14 and 13, 1 mile T. 8,
R. 6, W. 5th.

Any protest against the granting of the above mentioned lease must be forwarded to the Minister of Public Works, Edmonton, within thirty days from the date of this notice.

Dated at Coleman, June 8, 1943.
H. Bouthillier, Applicant.

Women's Dresses

Rack No. 1, priced at 95c

Rack No. 2, priced at $1.95

Rack No. 3, priced at $1.50

COTTON - SILK - PRINT

Assorted Shades, Styles and Colors

— All Sizes —

A REAL GOOD BUY

Chas. Nicholas

"The Family Clothier"

Main Street, Coleman

Summer Apparel

MEN'S SPORT SHIRTS
in various colors, at $2.75

BLOUSES, Broadcloth
sizes 8 to 20 $1.25 up

SUMMER DRESSES, Gay Colors
sizes 14 to 48 $2.95 up

SATIN NIGHTGOWNS
Small, Medium and Large $2.65

SILK ALPACA SUITS
2-Piece, at $5.75

Kwasnie's

Main Street, Coleman

Robert Syer Addressed Pass Merchants

"Wartime problems of retailers and suggestions for their solution were outlined to a large gathering of local and district merchants of Blaimore and Coleman, Friday evening by Robert Syer, Retail Trade Consultant of the Management Service Division, Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Mr.
R. W. Greenway, local representative of the Board at Lethbridge accompanied Mr. Syer.

After explaining how Management Service Division is organized to assist the retail trade, Mr.
Syer pointed out the reason why the "short supply" situation necessitates cautious management.

Selling consumer goods is a big responsibility for merchants today, and they play a tremendously important role in the final allocation of merchandise, he said.

"You must accept this responsibility," said Mr. Syer, "and see to it that your share of the available goods is properly re-allocated to the customer."

"Merchants should be extremely careful not to begin selling themselves out of business," Mr. Syer warned. "Generally speaking, the profit picture for retailers was better during 1942, despite the many wartime restrictions," continued Mr. Syer. "Lower operational costs aided in bringing about higher profits and comprised chiefly curtailments in lighting, deliveries, shorter hours, and also by curtailment of certain services and through elimination of waste programs."

Because supply houses are tightening their credit to retailers, it is essential for retailers to be more firm with customers' charge accounts, he suggested.

He felt local merchants should devise some system by which all deliveries would be pooled. Such a system saves manpower, gasoline, tires, etc., he said. He also recommended self-sacrifice plans for stores as a means of cutting down operating costs by saving time of the merchant and reducing the number of employees necessary to wait on customers.

It is "false economy" for retailers to reduce their advertising costs he declared, "advising merchants to analyse these expenditures carefully so as to get the best returns from the most efficient advertising media. "It is essential that retailers keep their names before the public," he emphasized.

In the final analysis, the speaker said, survival of business is contingent on cutting operating expenses to an absolute minimum and then regulating sales to a point where sales will meet those expenditures.

Following the address, Mr. Syer answered many questions relating to retailer's problems.

Help your country to victory—enlist now!

St. Alban's Ladies Aid

Whist Drive

in the Church Hall

Fri., June 11

at 7.30 p.m.

Admission - 25c

Everybody Welcome

Win a Beautiful Home

Tickets on the Greek War Relief Home which is to be raffled in Calgary are on sale at

Antrobus' Office

TICKETS, 50c each, or 3 for $1.00

Help the Greek War Relief Fund

The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's United Church, Coleman

will hold a

TEA

and

Sale of Home Cooking
in the Church Club Room

Sat., June 19th

from 2.30 to 6 p.m.

Everybody Welcome

Signe
Mother: "What makes you think your young man has matrimonial intentions?"
Daughter: "Well, when we were looking at Easter hats he tried to convince me I looked better in a $2.98 model rather than one that costs $15."